UNRAVELLING A BURGLARY. BOW DETECTIVES TRACED THE ROBBERS OF

PAWNSHOP.

The pawnshop at No. 528 Second-ave., belonging to Meided Meyer, was entered by burgings April 30 and robbed of lewelry valued at $4,709. For a long time no tree of the burgiars was found. Dotoctives Lautheer and Adams, however, at last invested a man named John Anderson, alias "Little Andy," with a portion of the proceeds of the burgiary in his possession. He was tried and sent to the State Prison for five years. The same fate befol another man, named August Palmer, who was shown to have possessed a watch stolen from the puwishop. PAWNSHOP.

The police by this time had resson to suspect that Paymshop.

The nonce by this time had reason to suspect that Hermann Palmer, a brother of August, Peter Wilson and Robert Clifford, all well-known thieves, were implicated in the robbery. Three weeks ago, Detectives King and Lyons received information that some of the stolen property had been pawned in Brooklyn, and they procured the portraits of Wilson and Clifford and crossed the East River. Many of the pawbrokers in Brooklyn were visited and were shown the photographs, but none remembered having seen the two men. In the Eastern Dastrict, however, a pawhbreker identified Wilson as a person who had pledged some jewelry at his store some time previous. Meided Meyer was sent for, and identified a watch and several other things as part of the proceeds of the burglary. A pistel and two gold chains nawned by Wilson were also identified by him. Wilson's address was well known to Inspector Byrnes, but he did not think himself justified in making an arrest until the Brooklyn pawnbroker had identified the man personally. The pawnbroker was accordingly induced to come to the city, where he recognized the robber one day while the latter was leaving a disorderly house. Wilson was arrested Monday morning by Detectives King and Lyons. He was taken to the Essex Market Police Court and there remanded.

Closely following upon this arrest came that of taken to the Essex Market Police Court and there remanded.

Closely following upon this arrest came that of Peter Mullen, who was supposed to have disposed of a portion of the stolen jewelry. When taken to Police Headquarters he stated that two weeks after the robbery Hermann Palmer and Clifford gave him twenty-one silver watches, two gold watches and one ohain, which he took to Victor Chamois, who keeps a pawnshop at No. 132 Bleecker-st., and sold for $75. From another course the police learned that Aaron Black, of No. 92 Chat' am-st., went to Hermann Palmer's house in Second-st. some time ago, and there, in the presence of Peter Wilson, bought a quantity of the stolen jewelry for $314. A few days later Hermann Palmer and Peter Wilson went to Simon Rabiust-in's nawnshop, at No. 202 East Houston-st. Wilson remained outside while Palmer went in and sold ninety chains for $150, and one diamond ring for $250. Back's arrest was made Tuesday night and Commois and Mullen were arrested yesterday morning. Of the five persons concerned in the burglary, only one, Hermann Palmer, is at large.

Wilson, Mullen, Black, Chamois and Rosenstein, the latter three being notorions receivers of stolen roods, were arrained before Justica Kilbreth, at the Essex Market Police Court, yesterday afternoon, David Rosenberg, Mended Meyers's clerk, being the complainant. The prisoners were held in $2,000 bail each.

THE STATEMENT THAT ONE OF THE BURIED TUN-NEL WORKMEN HAD BEEN FOUND DECLARED

It was stated vesterday that the workmen in the caisson of the Hudson River Railroad Tunuel Company had reached the body of one of the twenty workmen who were killed July 21 by the breaking in of the temporary entrance to the tannel. Charies Lovegov, the engineer who has charge of the caisson, was said to have uncovered the head, neck and breastbones of the body, but was unable to take them out because they were tightly wedged between the iron plates. The statement caused much excitement among the relatives of the dead workmen, and the caisson was surrounded by crowds of men and women all day yesterday. Some of the women charged the workmen with having handled the skeleton alleged to have been found in an irreverent manner. They were assured that no body had been found. found.
"The published statements are uttorly false,"

"The published statements are utterly false," said Enzineer Lovejoy to a Tribene reporter yesterday. "I have been ill with the chills and have not been in the caisson since last Sunday. The caisson now rests upon the ruptured plates that formed the roof of the temporary entrance to the tunnel. When the accident occurred the plates caved in so as to form the shape of a letter V. Yesterday afternoon one of the workmen thrust his hand through a crack between two of the plates and felt a peculiar substance. It was round and smooth. What it is we are unable to say. The report that I had discovered a skall belonging to one of the dead workmen is false, and no one has seen a bone or one of the bodies. If the object felt by the workman is a skull it cannot be taken out until we remove the iron plates with which it is covered. I shall enter the caisson, if I am well enough, to-morrow morning and make a thorough investigation, and see if any of the bodies can be reached through the cracks between the iron plates."

between the iron plates."

Mr. Anderson, the superintendent of the tunnel company, stated that he had inserted his hand between the plates and felt the alleged skull, but it had not been uncovered, and he did not know what it was. The carson is working to the entire satisfaction of the officers of the company, and it is expected that the bodies, or what is left of them, will be reached in three or four days.

A GHASTLY DISCOVERY AT SEA. A GHASTLY DISCOVERY AT SEA.

Captain John H. Allers, of the pilot boat Pet, who brought the steamship Scythia into port on Tuesday night, makes a report of the discovery of the wrecked schooner Giadiator on Saturday night last about 160 miles east of Sandy Hook. The Giadiator was sighted, bottom up, from the deck of the pilot boat, and running down to her, the body of one of the crew was seen honging from a portion of the fore-rigging. The body was raised above the water, when the odor became so offensive that it was let down into the water again. The flesh also was so much decomposed that it dropped from the benes the moment it came in contact with the atmosphere, and it was impossible to obtain any means of recognition.

and it was impossible to obtain any means of recognition.

As the schooner lay in the track of vessels, it was determined to scuttle her. After considerable hard work a large hole was cut in the side, just above the water line, and the horrible smell which issued from it drove the crew of the pilot boat from their work. Some of them were made sick, and, darkness coming on, they were anable to complete their work. Captain Allers feit confident that the other members of the crew lay dead in the cabin, but he was unable to make a full investigation, and thinks the vessel sank before the next meroing.

The Board of Health on Tuesday ordered the tenement houses at Nos. 439, 441, 443, 444, and 445 East Twenty-third-st, and at Nos. 381 and 389 Avenue-A, to be vacated at the expiration of five days, and a notice to that effect to be posted on the doors of the buildings. These are the nouses in which an epidemic of diphtheria was recently discovered. Since July 16, sixteen persons have died of the disease in these houses. The Sanntary Superintendent declared them dangerous for want of repairs. Efforts to induce the owners, D. M. Kohler and John Hogan, to remedy the defects failed, and the Board determined to exercise its right to close the houses and to remove the tenants.

Complaints were made of bad smells from gas in West Twenty-third-st. The Board ordered the matter to be called to the attention of the managers of the Manhattan Gas Company. The Commissioners declined to take steps toward procuring a steamboat for the special use of the department in transporting persons suffering from contagions diseases to the Riverside Hospital. Dr. Taylor reported the facts of the recent outbreak of small-pox in Harlem. The two children who were taken to the hospital Tuesday will probably recover. No sew cases have been reported.

FUNERAL SERVICES YESTERDAY-A DISPUTED QUES TION AS TO WHETHER HIS SUCCESSOR CAN BE

The uneral of Judge James P. Sumott was held yesterday morning at St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, No. 121 East One-hundred-and-seventeenthst. A requism mass was celebrated by the key. Henry Gordon, of St Paul's, with Father Grady, of the Church of the Annunciation, as deacon, and Father Brophy, of St. Cecelia's, was the master of ceremonies. At the conclusion of the master of ceremonies. At the conclusion of the master of ceremonies. At the conclusion of the master of ceremonies was delivered by the Rev. Engage Magnire, of St. Paul's, The pall-bearers were Judges Shea, McAdam, Sheridan, Goopp and Hawas, Charles J. Canda, John Savaze, and ex-Judge Alker. Among those present at the tuneral were Charles F. McLean, f. C. E. Ecclesine, General T. F. Bourke, Allen McDonald, f. O'Callahan, Captain Wines, R. McGanis, William Harnev, Dr. Donlin and ex-Judge Cardozo. All the clerks and attendants of the Marine Court were also present. The body was taken to Calvary Ceme tery for interment.

There has been much diversity of opinion among local politicians as to whether or not a successor of the late Judge James P. Sunott, of the Marine Court, could be elected in November. Many held that, as the vacancy was created less than three months before the ensuing effection, the Governor and Senate had the power to fill the vacancy from now until the election in 1881. In opposition to this view, was cited the cass of Judge Simott himself. The law of 1852, concerning the Marine Court, novided that any vacancy of the term of service should be filled in the same manner as similar vacances in the Superior Court. The method provided for filling vacancies in that Court was defined by section 5, chapter 255, of the laws of 1847, as tollows:

If a vacancy shall occur at any time in the office of any such Justice of Judge before his term shall have experted by death, regignation, removal or otherwise, then ELECTED THIS FALL.

any such justice or Judge before his term shall have expired, by death, resignation, removal or otherwise, then such vecancy shall be filled, for the residue of the unexpired term, at the next general election after the vacancy shall occur.

cancy shall occur.

A law passed in 1870 provides that vacancies in the Superior Court shall be filled in the same manner as in the Supreme Court, and that vacancies in the Supreme Court shall be filled at the next election after the vacancy occurs, provided it occurs three months before the next general election, otherwise it is to be filled by the Governor and Senate. Corporation Counsel Whitney, after citing the provisions of the law, has decided that a successor to the deceased Judge may be voted for at the next election.

CITY LEGISLATION.

A resolution was introduced in the Board of Aldermen on June 10, requesting the Board of Apportunement to appropriate $10,000 for the display of fireworks in the several parks on the anniversary of the Nation's independence. It was laid over at the time and was not called up until Tuesoay's meeting. Several of the members strongly advocated the passage of the resolution on the ground that there had been a tendency of late years to ignore the Fourth of July, and it was not well to allow the memories which the celebration of the day called forth to die out of the minds of the people. The resolution was adopted.

The Board resolved that the Governor's Room in the City Hall should be set apart for the reception of the remains of General Torbert, who was lost by the wreck of the steamsain City of Vera Cruz.

In order to allow the Democratic members an opportunity to attend the Democratic State Convention on Tuesday next, the Board rejourned until October 5.

STATUES FOR THE CITY.

A special meeting of the Park Commissioners was held yesterday. On the motion of Commissioner Lane it was resolved to appoint Jacob Wrey Mould, former architect of Central Park, as architect of Morang-ide Park. The Executive Committee, to whice was reterred the matter of dosamating sites upon which to place the statues of Robert Burns and Admiral Farragut, recommended that the Burns statue and pedestal be accepted and placed on the site already selected on the Mall, directly opposite the statue of Sir Wylter Scott. The unveiling will take place October 2. The recommendation that the statue of Admiral Farragut be accepted and placed in Madison Avenue Park on the Fifthave, side was laid over. A communication was received from John C. Hamilton, son of the late Alexander Hamilton, in which he offered to present to the Department of Parks a statue in grainte of his father, to be placed in the Central Park. The communication was referred to the Executive Committee for the selection of a site.

PURCHASES FOR THE BRIDGE.

The Grand Jury yesterday began its investigation of the alleged irregularities in connection with the purchase of land for the Brooklyn Bridge on the New-York side. It is said that all the money appropriated for the purchase did not reach the original owners of the property. Mayor Cooper and Controller Kelly had both received subcomas to appear yesterday. Mr. Morrison, the Mayor's secretary, appeared on behalf of Mr. Cooper, and was informed that the jury did not desire the presence of Messys. Cooper and Kelly that day, and that notice would be sent to them when to appear. Several trustees of the bridge were present, out only one witness was examined. The evidence is being recorded by a stenographer, and should any irregularity be discovered the evidence in full will be presented to the Court with whatever indictments may be found.

NEGLECT OF VACCINATION.

NEGLECT OF VACCINATION.

Dr. Taylor, the Chief of the Vaccination Bureau, prepared yesterday his report to the Board of Health upon the recent outbreak of small-pox in One-hundred-and-uinth-st. For more than three weeks it raged in the house, and five children caught the contagion before the health officers were made aware of the existence of the scourge. Dr. Taylor gives a detailed history of the case, and states that none of the children were vaccinated. Their parents stated that the reports of the evil effects following vaccination, so frequent last summer, deterred them from having the operation performed. In the face of the denial of the physicians who attended the children that they recognized the character of the disease, the health authorities can advance no proof of deliberate concealment, an offence for which the law provides severe punishment.

Isaac Elkus, wholesale dealer in clothing at No. 538 Broadway, made an assignment yesterday to Julius Levine. His attorney said that the immediate cause of the failure was attachments obtained by two creditors whose claims are not due, and which he is prepared to show were obtained on affidavits that were not true. He thought that the habilities were about $125,000; the assets were good, consisting of stock and open accounts.

James H. Prentice, manufacturer of hats in Willoughby-st., Brooklyn, made an assignment in this city vesterday to Robert Lewis, giving preference to Clark Brothers, Lewis Hendel & Mohn, and eleven other creditors. Mr. Prentice failed in January, 1879, with liabilities of upward of $250,000. He compromised with his creditors.

CAPTURE OF RUNAWAY GIRLS. CAPTURE OF RUNAWAY GIRLS.

Jennie Frankenfield, age fifteen, and Maggie Bryson, age fourteen, ran away from their homes in Easton, Penn., on Saturday. On Sunday they entered the oyster saloon of Joseph Wilhamson at No. 40 Bowery, who recognized Jennie Frankenfield. She said she had come to New-York as she wanted to see the city. Mr. Williamson detained the girls and telegraphed to Easton about their arrival. He received a dispatch in reply requesting him to have the runaways arrested; but they had meanwhile escaped from the saloon. Detective Brady on Tuesday night caught the girls on the Bowery, and yesterday at the E-sex Market Police Court they were committed to await the arrival of their parents.

SUCCESS AFTER REPEATED DEFEATS. THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY BUILDS A PIPE LIN THROUGH BAYONNE AT NIGHT.

At the meeting of the Bayonne, N. J.. Common Conneil, Tuesday evening, the Board granted to the Standard Oil Company, whose works are at Constable Hook, the privlege of laying an oil pipe through a part of Thirtieth-st., in that city. This section was a complete surprise. In July, 1879, a similar resolution was adopted, but it was vetoed by Mayor Lane. In June last the same privilege was granted, but it was withdrawn. Immediately after the passage of the resolution Tuesday night, an engrossed copy, which had been previously prepared, was signed by Mayor Lane. All the plats had been carefully made by the company. In the refineries were 300 men, provided with picks and shovels, and on the grounds were carts loaded with pipe. As soon as the Mayor had signed the resolution, the men were at once marched out. The proposed line had been previously staked out. To guard against a possible injunction the city avenues were crossed first, and the workmen then entered on the private property, all rights having been secured from the owners. or y, all rights having been secured from the own cas. This movement on the part of the Standard Company is the cutgrowth of the protracted fight between the New-Jersey Central and the Pennsylvania Railroad Companies. The oil of the Standard Company is now carried by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to Allentown, where it is transferred to the Central for transportation to the refineries at Constable Hook and the tanks at Communipaw. In order to get complete control of the business, the Pensylvania Company proposed to build a road from the Point of Rocks to Communipaw. This was fought by the Central, and on September 23, 1870. Chancellor Runyon decided against the projected road. The case was carried to a higher court, where the decision of the Chancellor was reversed. It then became necessary to form a connection, by a pipe line, between the Standard refineries and some point on the Pennsylvania Road, as the Central Company had threatened that in the event of the new road being built they would require the Standard Company to remove the pipes, now on the Central property, connecting the refineries with the tanks at Communipaw. It was with this object in view that the pipe line across Bayonne was projected.
